Opening

Left — After school, Senior Tanya Ashcraft spends some time in Dry Ridge.

The beginning of the year is a time for newness. To freshmen everything is new. For everyone else there must be reacquaintence with friends, catching up on summer activities, discussing new classes, and other important things. Clubs try to win new members with promises of exciting activities. School rules are explained. Over and over. Locker and locks are assigned. Lunch tickets are bought. Schedules are rescheduled. After three months of summer vacationing it's 8:25 a.m. and school begins.

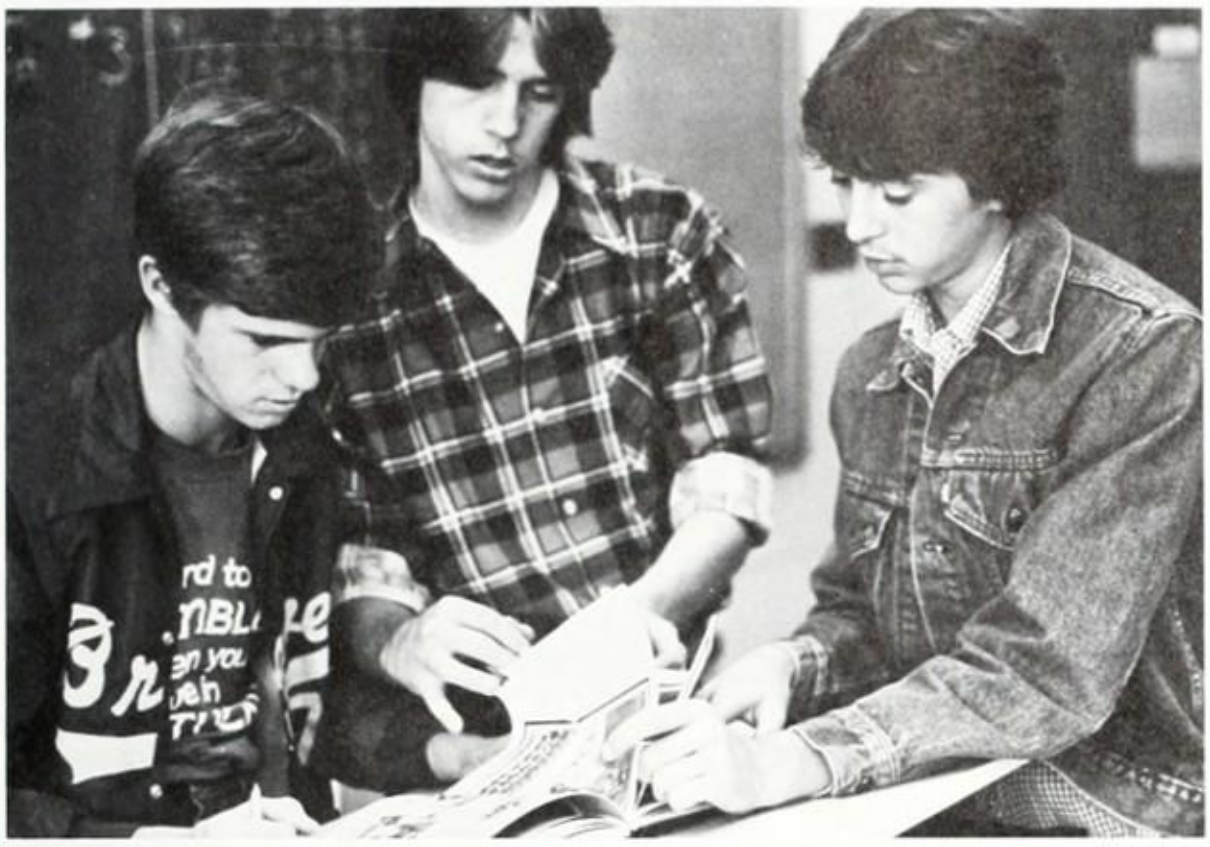
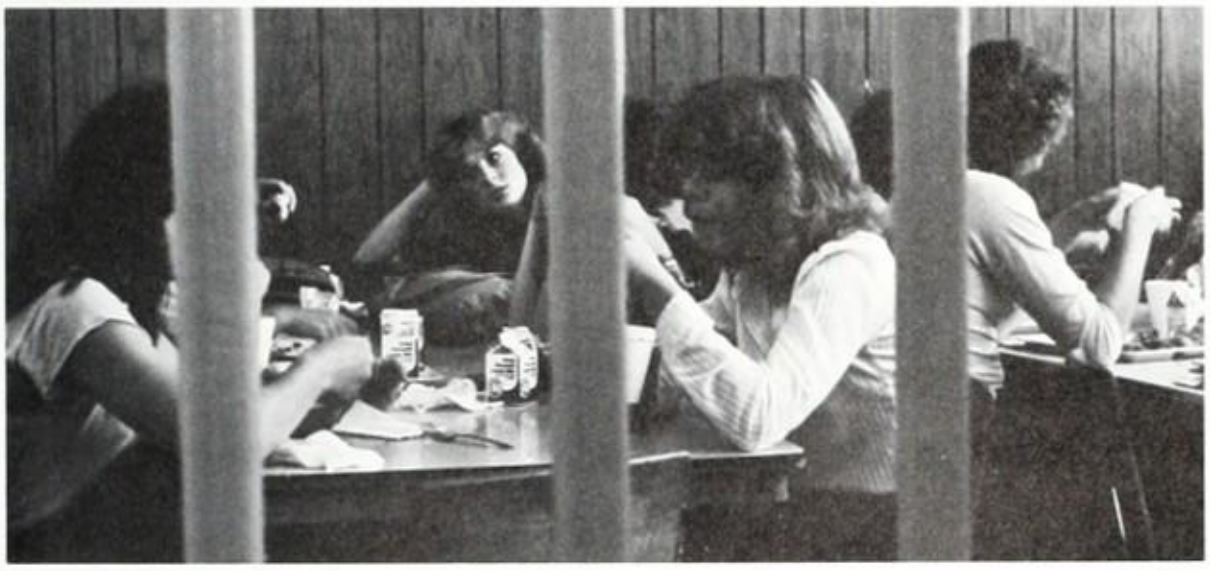
After the First Few Weeks . . .
The Rest Is UPHILL



— Rick Willoby



— Steve May

It's the beginning of the year. And things are different and yet the same. All summer long students slept late, stayed up late, just generally had fun. But with the beginning of the year comes some old and new difficulties. Upperclassmen are familiarly greeted with (or perhaps not greeted with) no bells. They do ring on special occasions like one-half of the way through periods, 2:00 in the morning, and during the Blue and Gold Game. The parking lot is a real challenge to drivers both old and new. Dodging potholes is an underestimated art. Scheduling is one of the top conversation starters. It's always refreshing to know that you have Algebra I with Mr. Franks 2nd period and Yearbook with Mr. Martin 3rd period, with 6 minutes to get from point A to point B. At certain times of the day, in certain parts of the hall it takes 12 minutes just to fight through the mob.

Poor Freshmen, they arrive with dreams of freedom and dignity by the end of the first week they realize even HIGH SCHOOL has its bad points. But as the consoling thought, remember this, if you can make it through the first weeks the rest is uphill.

It's Not All Bad

High School is not all bad. Along with the trials and tribulations of freshmanhood come more responsibility, more freedom, and more choices. Every year there is a little more to do.

Clubs and other organizations provide opportunities for involvement. Basketball games are an outlet for student enthusiasm. Even everyday activities entertain students after a day's work. Cruising through town, band practice, and stopping at Waco are popular pastimes of Grant County teens.

Schoolwork may pile up and responsibilities may increase, but students find that with a little rest and recreation, they can survive the year. After all, high school is not all bad.

Community Events Spark Interest

Two special occasions in Grant County's community activities were the Dry Ridge Court Day and the Marigold Festival. At Court Day, the 3rd annual road race drew over 80 participants. A new addition was the turtle contest with 23 heavyweight turtles competing. The Parade Marshall — Mark Risen, Grand Marshall — Roscoe Jump, and Miss Grant Go. Fair, Rhonda Snell were among the honored guests.

Gary Brock of Dry Ridge headed the 1st Antique and street rod show. Also making an appearance at the car show and throughout Dry Ridge was Lt. Governor Martha Layne Collins. A special reception was held at the Country Club for her.

Marigold Day got on its way September 24. The highlight of the day was country western singer, Michael Twitty, son of Conway Twitty. Students and other Grant Countians enjoyed taking advantage of these two festive days.

Behind the Scenes

Championships, honors, and trophies were awarded to Grant Co. students throughout the year. The old saying "practice makes perfect" really came true.

On the surface, the school looked as if it was running effortlessly. But beneath that smooth surface, the students were working hard and practicing strenuously every day. A lot of time and effort went on behind the scenes.

— Rick Willoby

— Steve May

All over the school, students and faculty were busy planning dances and assemblies, raising money, practicing for skits, and getting ready for the big meet.

The hours of hard work, planning, and practice really paid off. The many awards received this year proved that the work "behind the scenes" was definitely worth it.

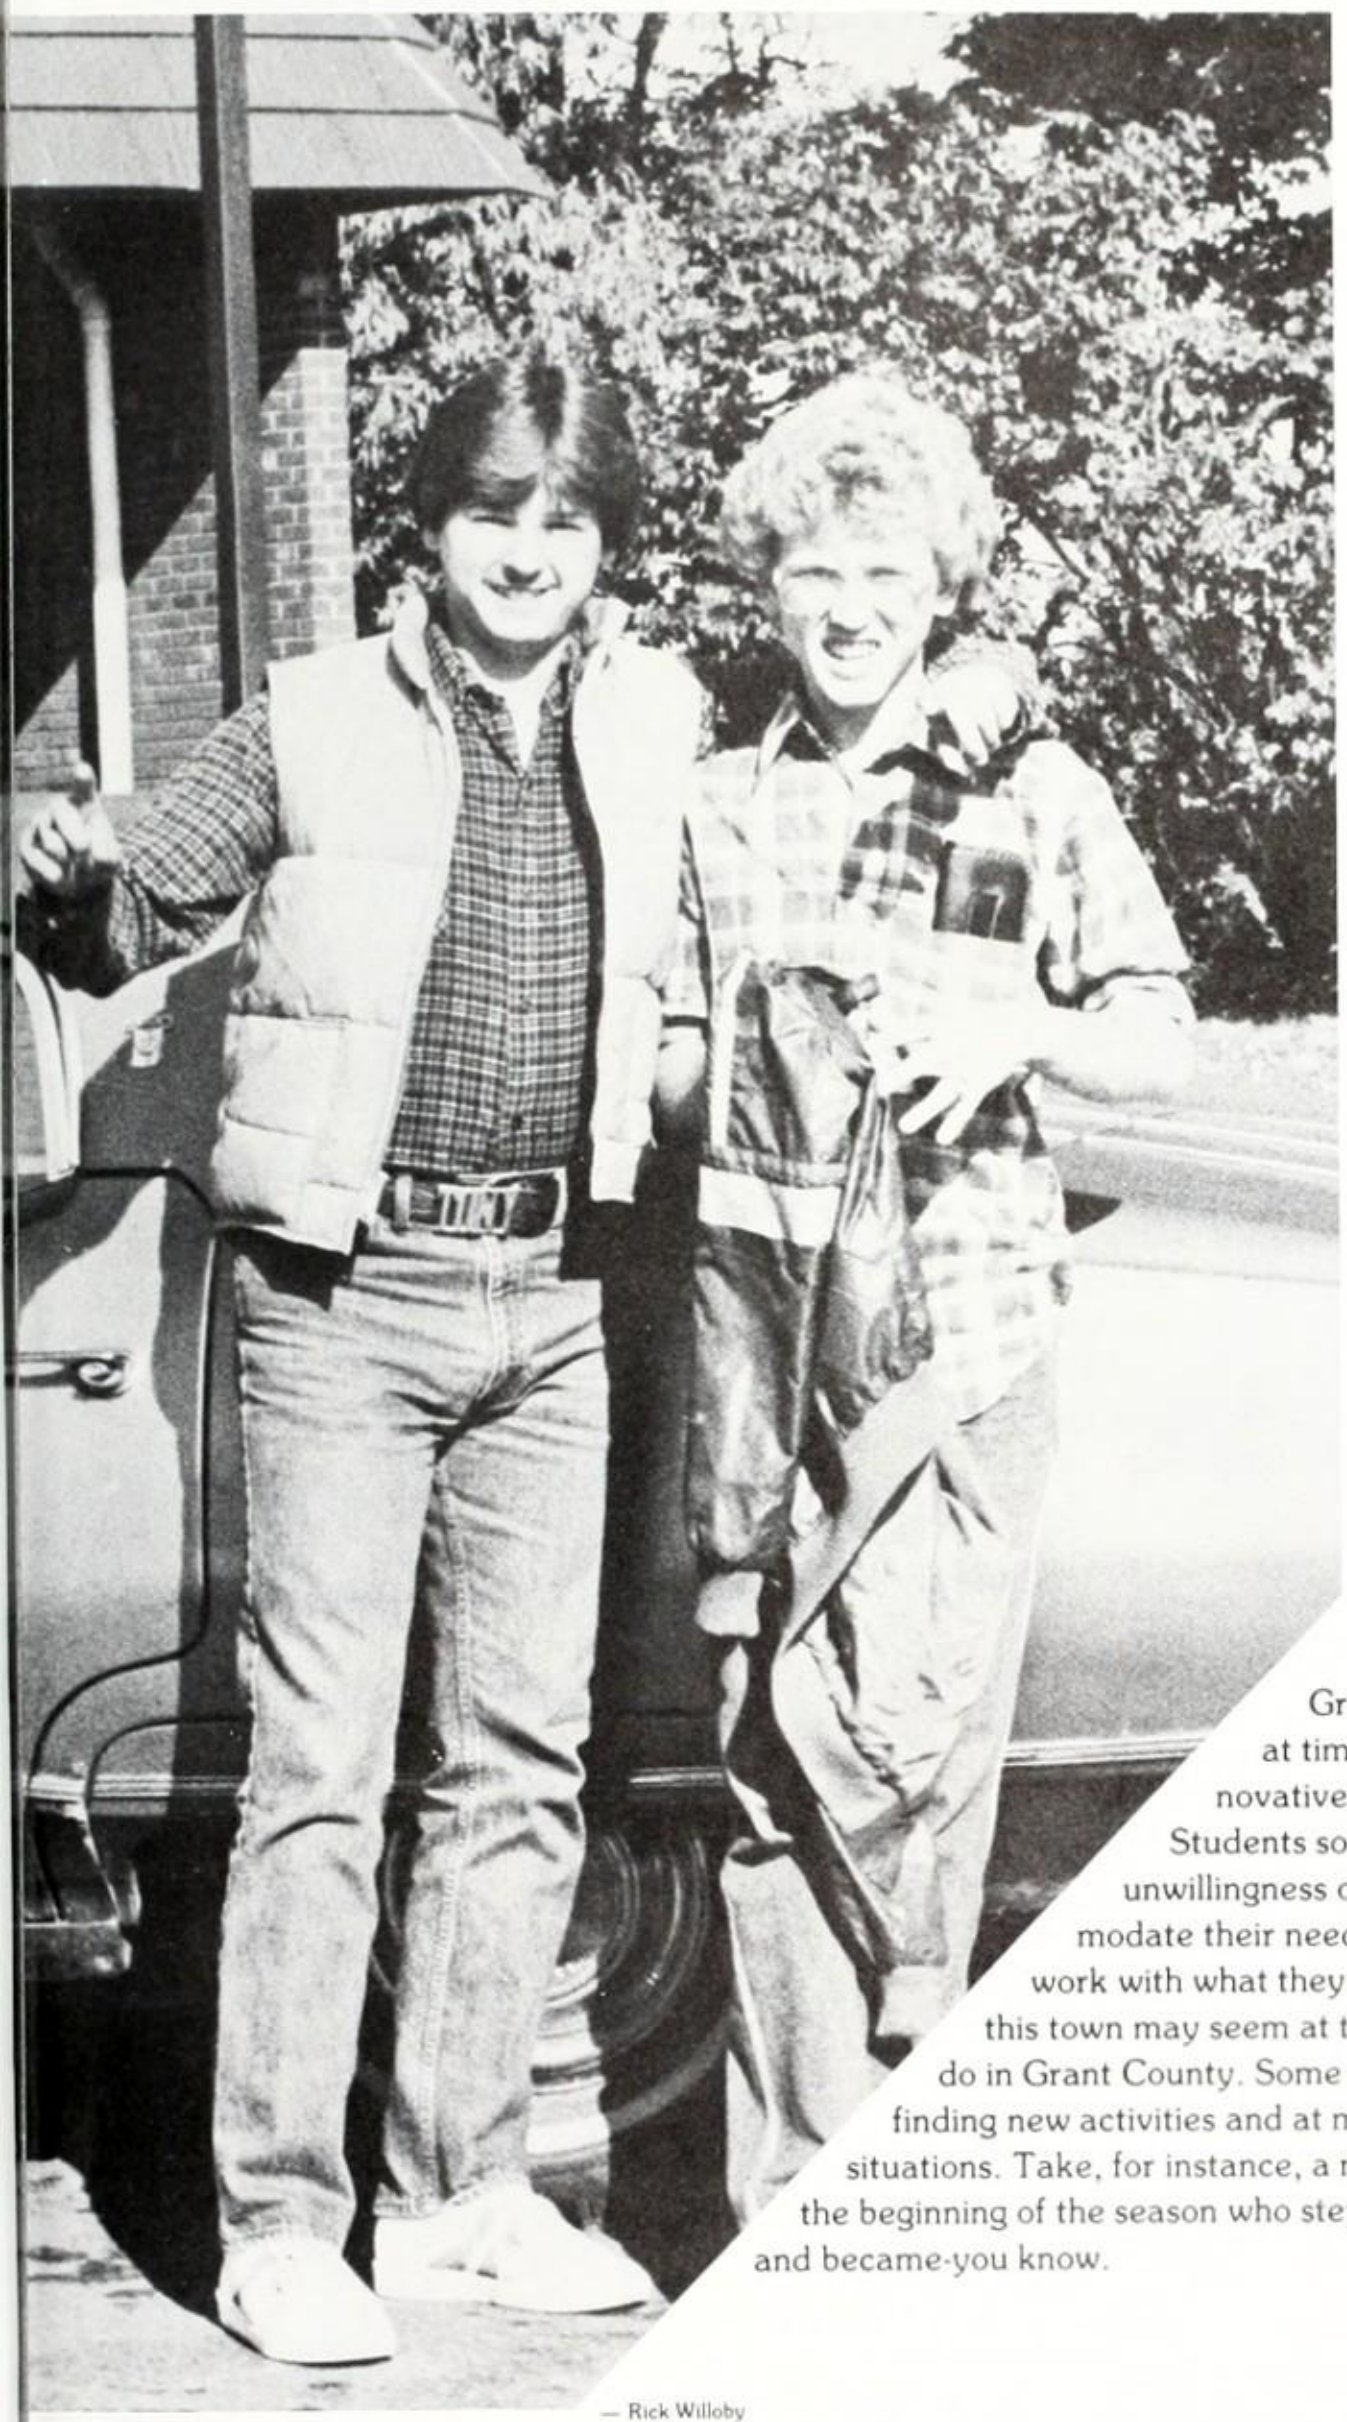
Student Life



Left — For Seniors Doug Adkins and Tony Hall, a trip to Waco after school is a daily part of life.

Livening up student life in Grant County is a bit challenging at times. At times, traditions keep innovative ideas from becoming reality. Students sometimes get disgusted with the unwillingness of the school system to accommodate their need to change. But, the students work with what they have. No matter how boring this town may seem at times, there really are things to do in Grant County. Some students are highly skilled at finding new activities and at making the most of everyday situations. Take, for instance, a mild-mannered Braves fan at the beginning of the season who stepped behind the stage curtain and became-you know.

— Rick Willoby

I Don't Care Too Much for Money . . . . . What Am I Saying?! . . .

Student Life, Student Life? Yeah, you could call it that if you wanted to. What do you need from life as a student? Friends! Right, of course, friends. Most people have one or two or ten. A friend is someone to talk to, someone who enjoys the same things you do, seeing movies, going shopping, racing cars, shooting small woodland animals . . . whatever you like. Ah! That's what a friend does.

What? You don't have any friends. What do you do? There are over 700 kids here! Surely you can find someone who shares your interests. Not too boring, not too crazy, just slightly eccentric like yourself.

Now that you have a friend, what do you do? You sit around, drink cokes, and reminisce about the good old days of life at the Middle School, B.C. (before car). Right?

Wrong! You have to get involved! No, why waste my time, nobody cares. The same old sob story. Why don't you care! It's a start! There are more than a dozen clubs and band and sports and . . . and . . . OK, maybe we don't have all the opportunities that a huge school has, but we have quite a lot and with more interest, we will have more opportunities.

Start going to ball games, band competitions, and all of those other school events. Who needs to go to Florence? Come on! We have the social capital of the world right here at GCHS.

For instance, take the town of Dry Ridge . . . Please! But seriously take Dry Ridge. It's a virtual haven of opportunity for entertainment.

You can play Pac Man at Gulf. You can drive around and around the Pizza Place. You can sit at the Shrimp and wait for something to happen. You can sit at the drug store until someone mistakes you for someone else and stops to talk to you anyway, or you can drive past the gas stations and back 80 times.

So now you know what makes a student life, so let's take a little test:

1. What do you need from School life?
   A. Friends
   B. Money
   C. A coke before school daily
   D. A scholarship to NKU

2. You and your friends need to get more involved with
   A. Race car driving
   B. A UK ball player
   C. School activities
   D. Calvin Kleins

3. Why get involved?
   A. It's the way to enjoy school.
   B. There's nothing better to do.
   C. You might as well.

The answers: 1 — a, coke is not a necessity in life; 2 — c, there is life without Calvin Kleins; 3 — all of the above, you couldn't miss this one.

It's decision time. Get involved or be a doorknob. Make some friends to have fun with or stay home and watch Gilligans Island re-runs. Tough decision, huh? Being a doorknob is pretty tempting!

Yes folks, we know it's an uphill battle, and for every step forward, you slide back two, but you have to make an effort. Forge ahead! Over the top! Come on, you can do it . . . MAYBE!

— D. Baker, T. Brewsaugh, R. Hughes.

Right — "Like, my mini-skirt is like, totally tubular."
Bottom — "Look! up in the stands, it's a bird, it's a plane, it's SUPERFAN!"

Explaining Collegiate Mysteries

Explaining collegiate mysteries has kept men busy for a long time. For years, scientists and mathematicians held a monopoly on natural laws and principles.

But in recent years, everyone has been offering their laws of life. This phenomenon began with the popularity of Murphy's Law (If anything can go wrong, it will).

To add to this growing collection of natural laws, the Grantonian offers the Laws of High School Life.

When guessing on true/false questions, you will guess the wrong answer more than .50% of the time.

Whenever you study .95% of the material for a final exam, the test will cover the other five percent.

The class you take "just for fun" is always the hardest class you will ever take.

The amount of time you have to get to class is directly proportional to the number of times you are stopped on the way.

The one class you need to graduate will not be offered your senior year.

When you have a new outfit to wear to school, someone wears the exact same outfit.

The lateness of an assignment is directly proportional to the complexity of the excuse.

Tests always come in groups of 3 or more on the same day.

The amount of time you spend in the library on a research paper is directly proportional to the date the paper is due.

A. If the paper is due in less than a week, the book you need will be out being rebound.

B. If the number of students who are working on the same subject is directly proportional to the number of available books on that subject.

Whenever you cram all night for a test, you will usually sleep through it.

The day there is an assembly is the day you decide to stay home.

The day you are sick and can stay home anyway, school is cancelled for snow.

The day you are a lesson ahead in homework is the day the teacher gives you an hour to work on it.

The day there is something good for lunch, your friends decide you need to diet.

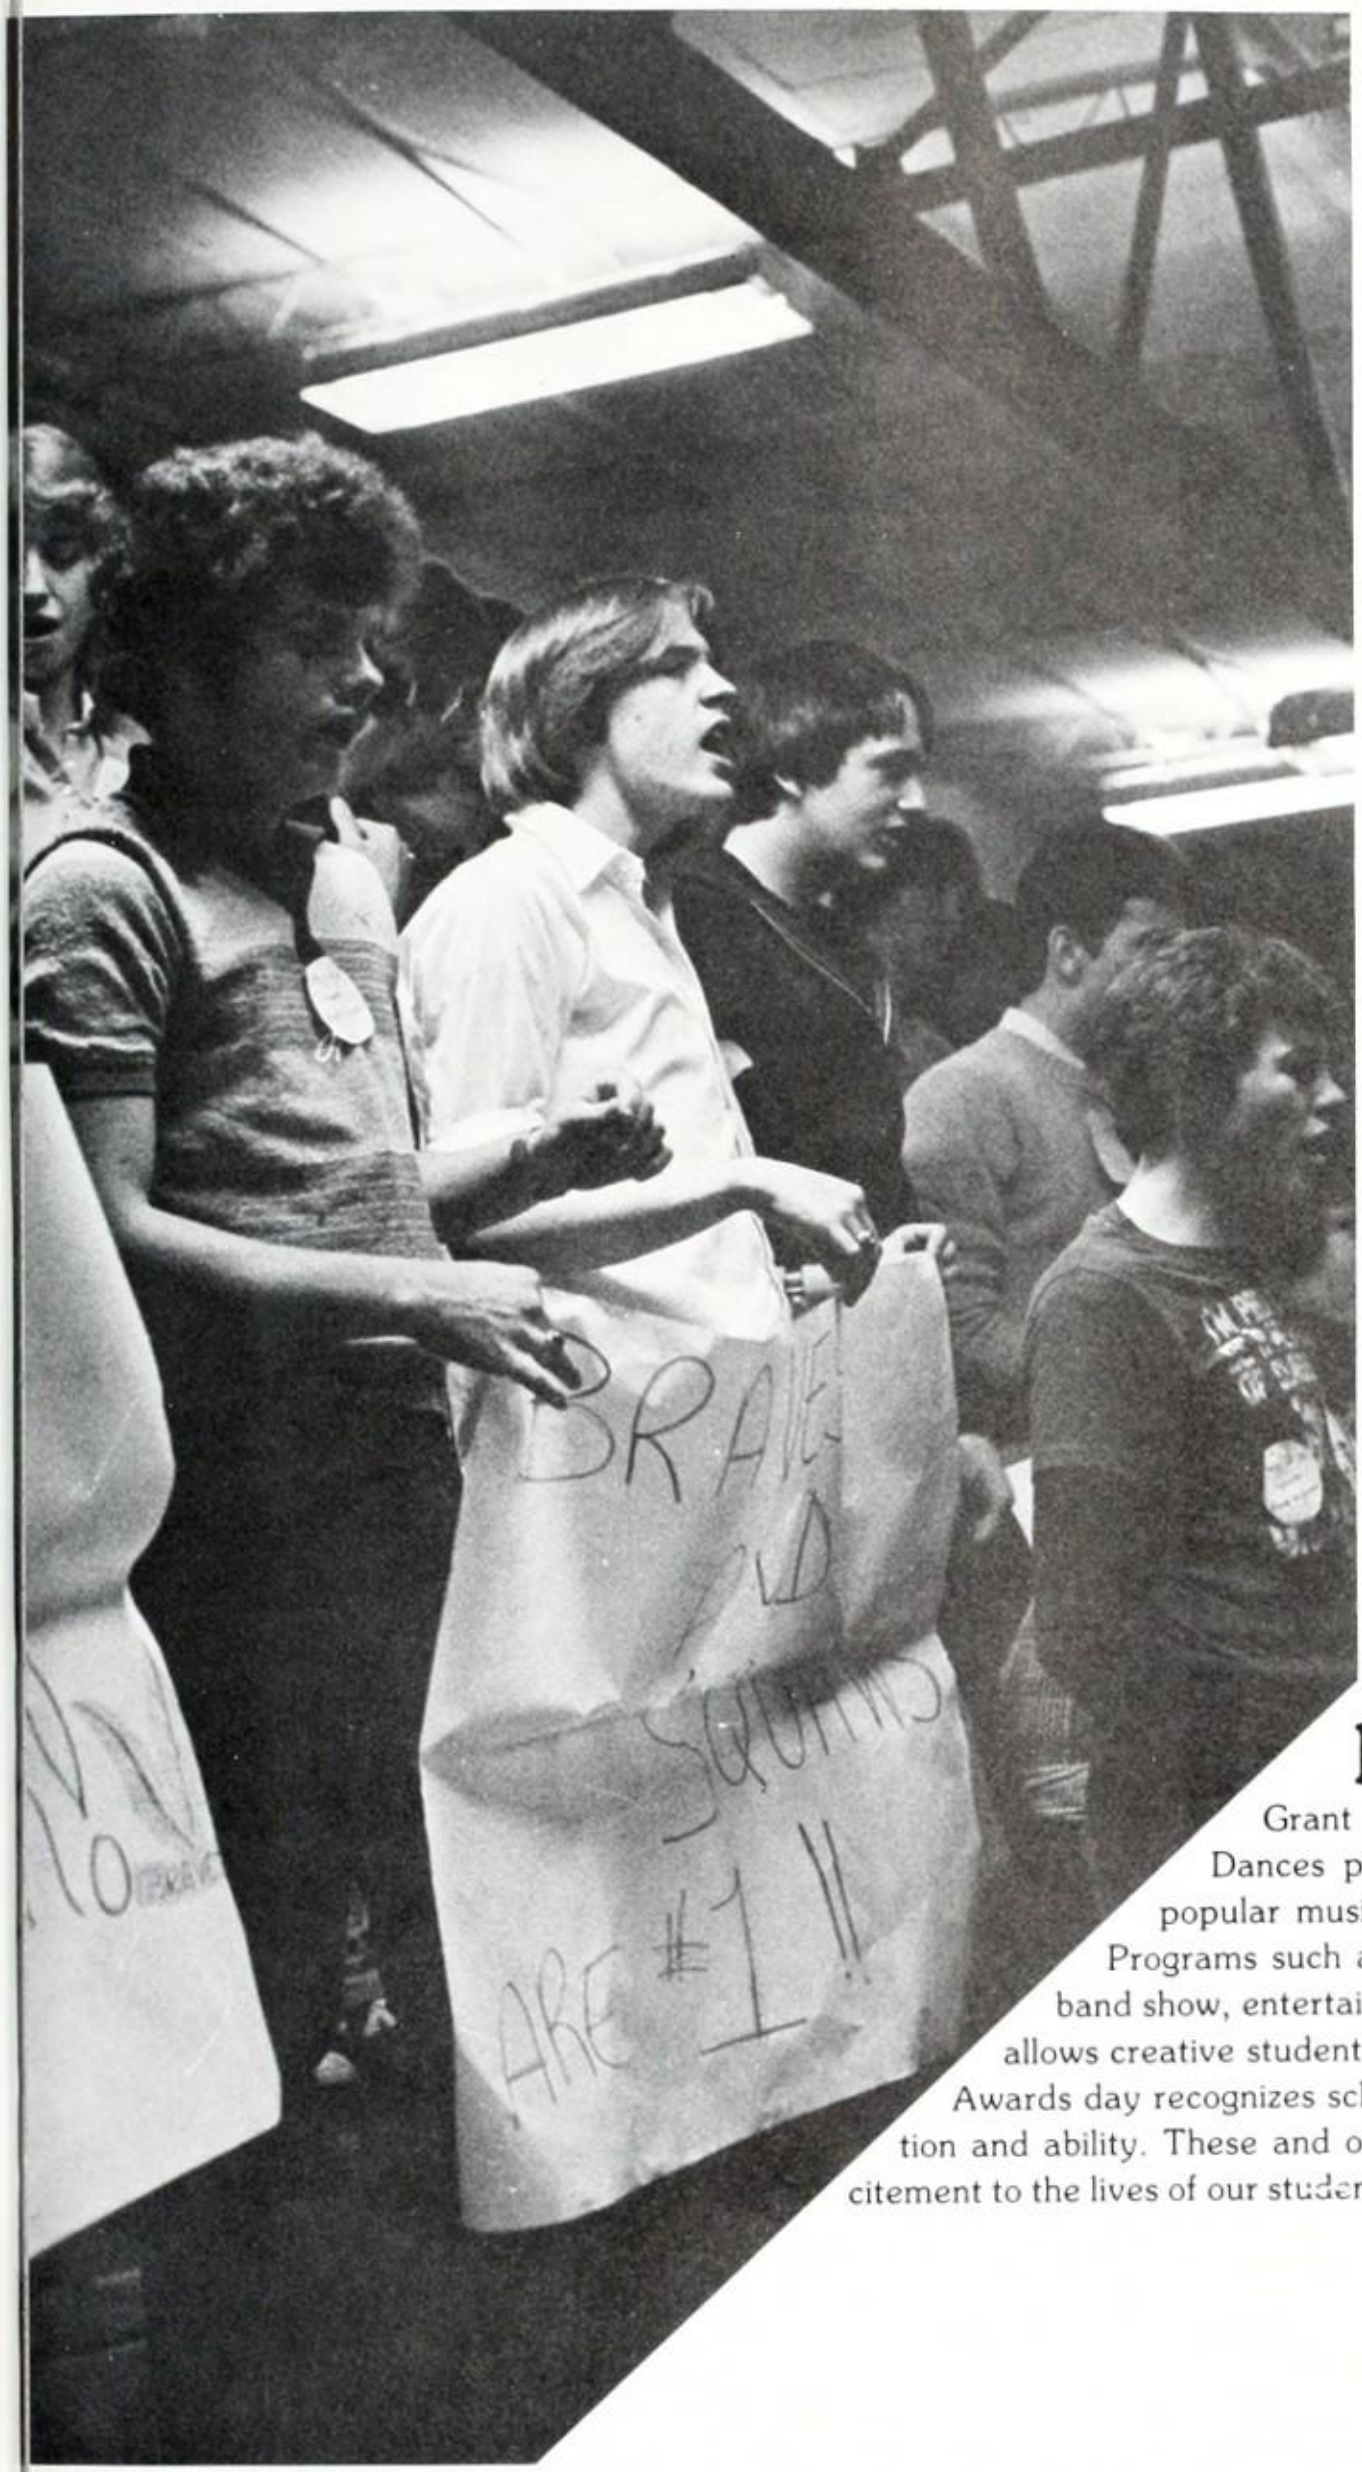
Events



— Rick Willoby

As the rivalry between Grant County and Williamstown was ignited this year as they became part of the Brave's regular season play, the spirit of the Grant County fans was ignited also.

Events liven up the lives of Grant County High School students. Dances provide an opportunity to enjoy popular music and to show off coordination. Programs such as career day, and the air force band show, entertain and enlighten. The school play allows creative students to get a taste of the dramatics. Awards day recognizes scholarly students for their dedication and ability. These and other events add variety and excitement to the lives of our students.

1983 was the first year for the Honors Night program in Grant County. Students receiving awards were notified and invited to attend the ceremonies along with their parents. The program was sponsored by the National Honor Society and emceed by Robin Hughes, David Parks, and Mr. Wynn. The turnout for the soon-to-be tradition was exceptional with a crowd of over 400. Everything You Ever Wanted But Were

Things we were not allowed to do:

We were not permitted to have a masquerade dance at Halloween.

They kept the bathrooms locked up for most of the year.

We were not allowed to wear sweat pants to school.

You have to buy a whole lunch to get cupcakes or milkshakes.

Assigned seats at lunch.

Roses can't be delivered during class.

Students are excused to attend the state tournament, but not to to attend a funeral unless it's in the immediate family.

Students aren't excused to get drivers license or permit.

No spirit week

Only two pep rallies

No Easter Assembly.

Kept us at school with no heat and no water.

Brought us to school on a sheet of ice.

Doug Adkins Superfan leads the crowd in a spirited cheer.

Top — Senior, Lori Woodyard portrays the director in the Yearbook Sales Assembly.
Bottom — Caught here in a more innocent moment, junior, Mark Fox was responsible for the "wood chips" incident.

Things we were allowed to do or did anyway:

We had three extra days out of school due to flu epidemic.

We had intramurals on club days.

Though he had his share of difficulties (in the form of a Boone County Linebacker) Doug Adkins grew tired of being just another face in the crowd and donned cape, longjohns, and basketball helmet to become Superfan.

We were also given lenience at ballgames to make noise and make a mess.

To combat the locking up of bathrooms a student, who shall remain unidentified, left his mark in more ways than one as the "Mad Crapper."

Mark Fox and Mark Middleton got in trouble for substituting wood chips for croutons in the salad bar.

While a repair man was on the roof, his ladder mysteriously disappeared.

After GCHS defeated Williamstown in the District game, a blue and gold out-house somehow arrived on the lawn of WHS the following day.

We had the traditional Senior skip day.

Someone decorated our front yard with "for sale" signs.

Bottom Left — Police work is not just for men anymore, as explained by Trooper Dolwick.

After a cancellation due to technical difficulty, students were treated to a special program by the Air Force Band. Their renditions of popular songs were a big hit with students. Two lead singers, one male and one female performed the songs. The faculty was included when Mr. Doyle met E.T.'s mother and Mrs. West was serenaded.

Representatives from surrounding college, including University of Kentucky, Eastern Kentucky University, and Northern Kentucky University, and many others, talked to students about the advantages of their schools. The armed forces were also well-represented. A certified public accountant, a lawyer, and a social worker spoke to students about their professions. Students got the opportunity to join mailing lists for their favorite schools and to learn more about college life. Mrs. Brill coordinated the program. After a predesignated amount of time, she allowed the students to visit with colleges of their choice. In all, the college-hopefuls met with three schools.

Hypnotist Keeps G.C.H.S. Under Control

The Grant County students got a real treat when a hypnotist came to school and put on a show. His name was Preston and he started out by carefully selecting a few students who best responded to his hypnotism. One of the students that he selected was Senior Doug Adkins, who under hypnosis, acted and sang just like Elton John. Preston also selected Senior Kim Maxwell to do a hula dance, and Senior Tim Thorton to sing the ABC's.

Overall, the assembly was a success. The opinion of most of the students who participated was "I don't remember a thing."

The 1983 Homecoming was quite a success. New faces and a new queen were some of the differences. Stephanie Rodgers, a Junior was named homecoming queen out of the candidates for all Junior and Senior homerooms. Her follower, this year's princess was given to Becky O'Nan who was also princess last year. The Queen was escorted by Junior, Dan O'Nan the 1983 princess's brother. The princess was escorted by Dewey Thomas a first year student at Grant County High School.

The candidates were selected from each homeroom and voted on by the student body. Freshmen and Sophomores voted for princess while Juniors and Seniors voted for the Queen.

All candidates appeared at the Braves home ballgame escorted by the Basketball team. This year's crown bearers were Diana Camacho and Nicholas Ryan.

Following the Homecoming festivities was a dance featuring music by the "Good Time Party Machine." All students were invited to take part in the fun.

Sports

Sophomore Jennifer Burton attempts to raise the spirits of a home crowd.

Grant County High School offers a wide variety of sports to suit the wants and needs of almost everyone. True, we're not quite big enough to have a football team. Or a wrestling team. Or a swim team. But we do have baseball, basketball, golf, track, cross-country, and cheerleaders. These sports provide involvement for those who participate, and entertainment for those who like to watch. Without activities like these, the year would seem to go on forever. With them, the year is more enjoyable, more eventful, and more meaningful. So even if we don't have a football team, GCHS sports are great.

Braves Plagued

The Braves entered the 1982-83 basketball season as a relatively small and somewhat inexperienced team, but felt that this could be compensated for by hard work and dedication. They got the ball rolling as early as June and July during which they participated in two different summer leagues. This early competition provided the necessary experience for the Braves, which were plagued by the graduation of six lettermen, three of whom started for the 1981-82 season.

The braves began their season with a convincing win over cross-county rival, the Williamstown Demons. They went on to win five of their first six games, including a first place trophy in the Boone County Invitational Tournament. The Braves played inconsistent for the next several games and finished the first half of the season with a 7-5 record.

After the first semester break, the team hoped to regain their early form, but were unable to play with their full potential. They showed promise in victories over Western Hills, Gallatin County, and even in losses to Campbell County and Carroll County, but could not maintain a degree of consistency.

The Braves entered post-season play with renewed spirit and enthusiasm. They handily defeated Williamstown in the first game of the District Tournament. In the championship game of the 32nd district the Scott County Cardinals edged Grant County 36-25 as the Braves employed a deliberate style of play. The team's hope for an eighth region crown were ended when Bullitt Central defeated them by three points in first round action. The Braves finished with an 11-19 mark.

Completing his Senior year for the Braves, David Parks proved his outstanding ability by becoming a member of the 1,000 point club.

Winning Season Raises False Hopes

The 1982-1983 Girls Varsity Basketball team started their season practices early in the summer. Attending a Basketball camp at Morehead State University for five days provided the girls with the basic techniques needed for the oncoming season. Setting new goals was the major aspect of the camp.

The Squaws ended with a winning season. Their record was 15 wins and 13 losses. They traveled to Scott County High School for the opening round of the District tournament and were defeated, thus, ending the 1983 season. This loss was to Owen County at 39 to 42.

The Squaws showed great potential during this season and hope to continue with the same potential for next year. Although they will be suffering the loss of two Seniors, Lori Woodyard and September Colbert, the team has high hopes for next year.

September Colbert easily reaches her goal by adding another two points to her record of 1,000 points.

20-3 Record Makes Promising Future for Braves

Under the Coaching direction of Don Martin and Tom Eckler, the JV Braves had an outstanding season with a winning record of 20 wins and 3 losses. The Sophomore strong team lost their only games to Pendleton, Boone, and Campbell. The leading scorer for the JV Braves was Larry Martin with a 10½ point average game. Sophomore Ronnie Poole helped the Varsity Braves during the district tournaments as he was voted onto the All-District team. The strong bench also helped the JV Braves as Ken Peters, Tim Day, and Tyler Arnold added to their total playing time. Next year, during the 1983-1984 season shows much promise as all of the JV Braves will be returning. A summer training program has been initiated to prepare for the season. Each week of the summer will be filled with practice, weightlifting, and intersquad scrimmages.

Freshman Braves Are Headed for Success

The Grant County High School Freshman Braves had a very successful season. They played twenty games during a course of approximately nine weeks. They were victorious in seventeen of those games. The freshman boys won over such teams as Walton, Williamstown, Pendleton County, Ockerman, and other nearby Freshman teams.

On February 5, the Freshman Braves played Owen County and then went on to win the Williamstown Invitational Tournament.

The team is coached by Tom Eckler who has worked with the team for two years. The starting five players were David Shelton, Marlon Kinsey, Mark Kinsey, Steve Knarr, and Greg Stith. They were led in points by guard, David Shelton.

They were supported by cheerleaders throughout the season. They were Sonya Simpson, Lisa True, Laurel Workman, Tanya Marksberry, Doena Kinman, and Christy Howe, sponsored by Pat Bobbs,

The team ended a successful season with a record of 19-3.

Varsity Squads Qualify for Regions

The 1982-83 Boys Varsity Cheerleaders were chosen in April of 1982. After several long practices they traveled to U.K. for a 3 day camp sponsored by United Cheerleading Association. After days of learning new things and being evaluated on their abilities the cheerleaders earned 2 spirit sticks and a trophy for best all-around squad of the camp. During the season the cheerleaders worked together to create a successful atmosphere of spirit and pep during ballgames. New uniforms provided a new look this year. Money earned for these uniforms was by having a 5 day cheerleading clinic for younger students throughout the county. District Competition at Williamstown proved worthwhile for the cheerleaders placing 1st place and gaining the right to compete in Regional Competition. Regional Competition contained 8 squads which were winners of runner-up in their district. The Boys Varsity placed 3rd — 5 points behind the 2nd place squad from Carroll County.

The 1982-83 Girls Varsity Cheerleading squad added many new improvements to their team.

The six members, Samantha Kinman, Danita Lawrence, Nancy Willoughby, Fonda Harvey, Carla Humphress, and Angie Hughes, along with their sponsor Patti Noel, worked at two dinner banquets to earn money for new uniforms. They also put together a concession stand at the first G.C.H.S. dance for the same cause.

All their efforts were a success. The cheerleaders received the first Squaws uniforms to be at Grant County.

The Squaws Cheerleaders also competed in the 32nd District Cheerleading Competition. They received a 2nd place trophy and each girl was awarded a ribbon.

Their second place trophy allowed them to compete in the 8th Region Competition. The girls were against 7 other girls basketball cheerleaders, and despite the tough competition they received the Pat Dooly K-Pep award for being the most spirited and peppiest team competing.

Mrs. Noel was unable to attend the Regional Competition due to the birth of her baby girl, Deanna May. Mrs. Doyle substituted in her place.

All around the G.C.H.S. Squaws Cheerleaders leaders had a highly successful year, and showed much spirit and enthusiasm for their team.

The Freshman Cheerleaders, Lisa True, Doena Kinman, Sonya Simpson, Christy Howell, Tanya Marksberry, and Laurel Workman supported the freshman Braves with enthusiasm and spirit, along with their sponsor, Home Economics teacher, Miss Pat Boggs. The cheerleaders worked at two banquets to earn money for new sweat suits and their shoes. These cheerleaders hold a promising future for G.C.H.S. with manager Jenny Toole.

Mark and Marlon Kinsey, Timmy Thornton, Doug Parks, Mike Phillipi, Jeff Stith and Thad Workman made the all-region team.
The girls cross country team finished with an 11-6 season record. Their invitational record was 42-49. The girls finished fifth in the region and Kelly Phillipi, Angela Adkins, and Tona Sponcil made the state. Coach Dan Baker called this "a rebuilding year."

Jennifer Burton set a new record in the high jump (5′) as well as Jimmy Simpson in the shot (47′8¼″) and Angela Adkins in the 200 with a time of 29.02. Eighth grader Kelli Phillippi made a new high school record in the 800 with a time of 2.34 and Mark Kinsey broke records in two events, in the mile with a time of 4.45 and in the two mile with a time of 10.14. Two of these athletes went to the state in their events, they were Jimmy Simpson who finished 5th and Jennifer Burton who came in 4th.

Twenty-two Games Rained Out — Still Braves Have Winning Record

Our 1982-83 baseball team had a fairly successful year winning six of their eleven games. They were only able to play one-third of their games; twenty-two being rained out.

Leading the team this season, Senior Tony Hall was chosen Most Valuable Player and also received the Highest Batting Average Award. Junior Thad Workman was honored with the award for the best Earned Run Average this season.

Top — Sophomore Jeff Stith was the lead off batter and the starting varsity shortstop for most of the season.

Golf Team Qualifies For State Tournament

The 1982-83 Braves Golf Team completed a very successful season with a triumphant victory at the regional tournament held at the Eagle Creek Country Club. Team members David Parks and Tim Day tied for first place and Tim Day was victorious during their playoff.

Four members of the golf team David Parks, Doug Parks, Tim Day and Darryl Collier qualified for the state tournament. At the state tournament in Fort Knox, Kentucky, out of the twenty-two teams competing, Grant County finished 9th with a score of 692. David Parks had the lowest scores from our school with 82 in the first round and 79 in the second.

The team is coached by Carl Wenderoth. Mr. Wenderoth has coached the team for the past 11 years. During the past two years, the golf team has finished first in nearly all of their seasonal matches. In the Eagle Creek Invitational Tournament, Grant County finished second closely behind Covington Catholic.

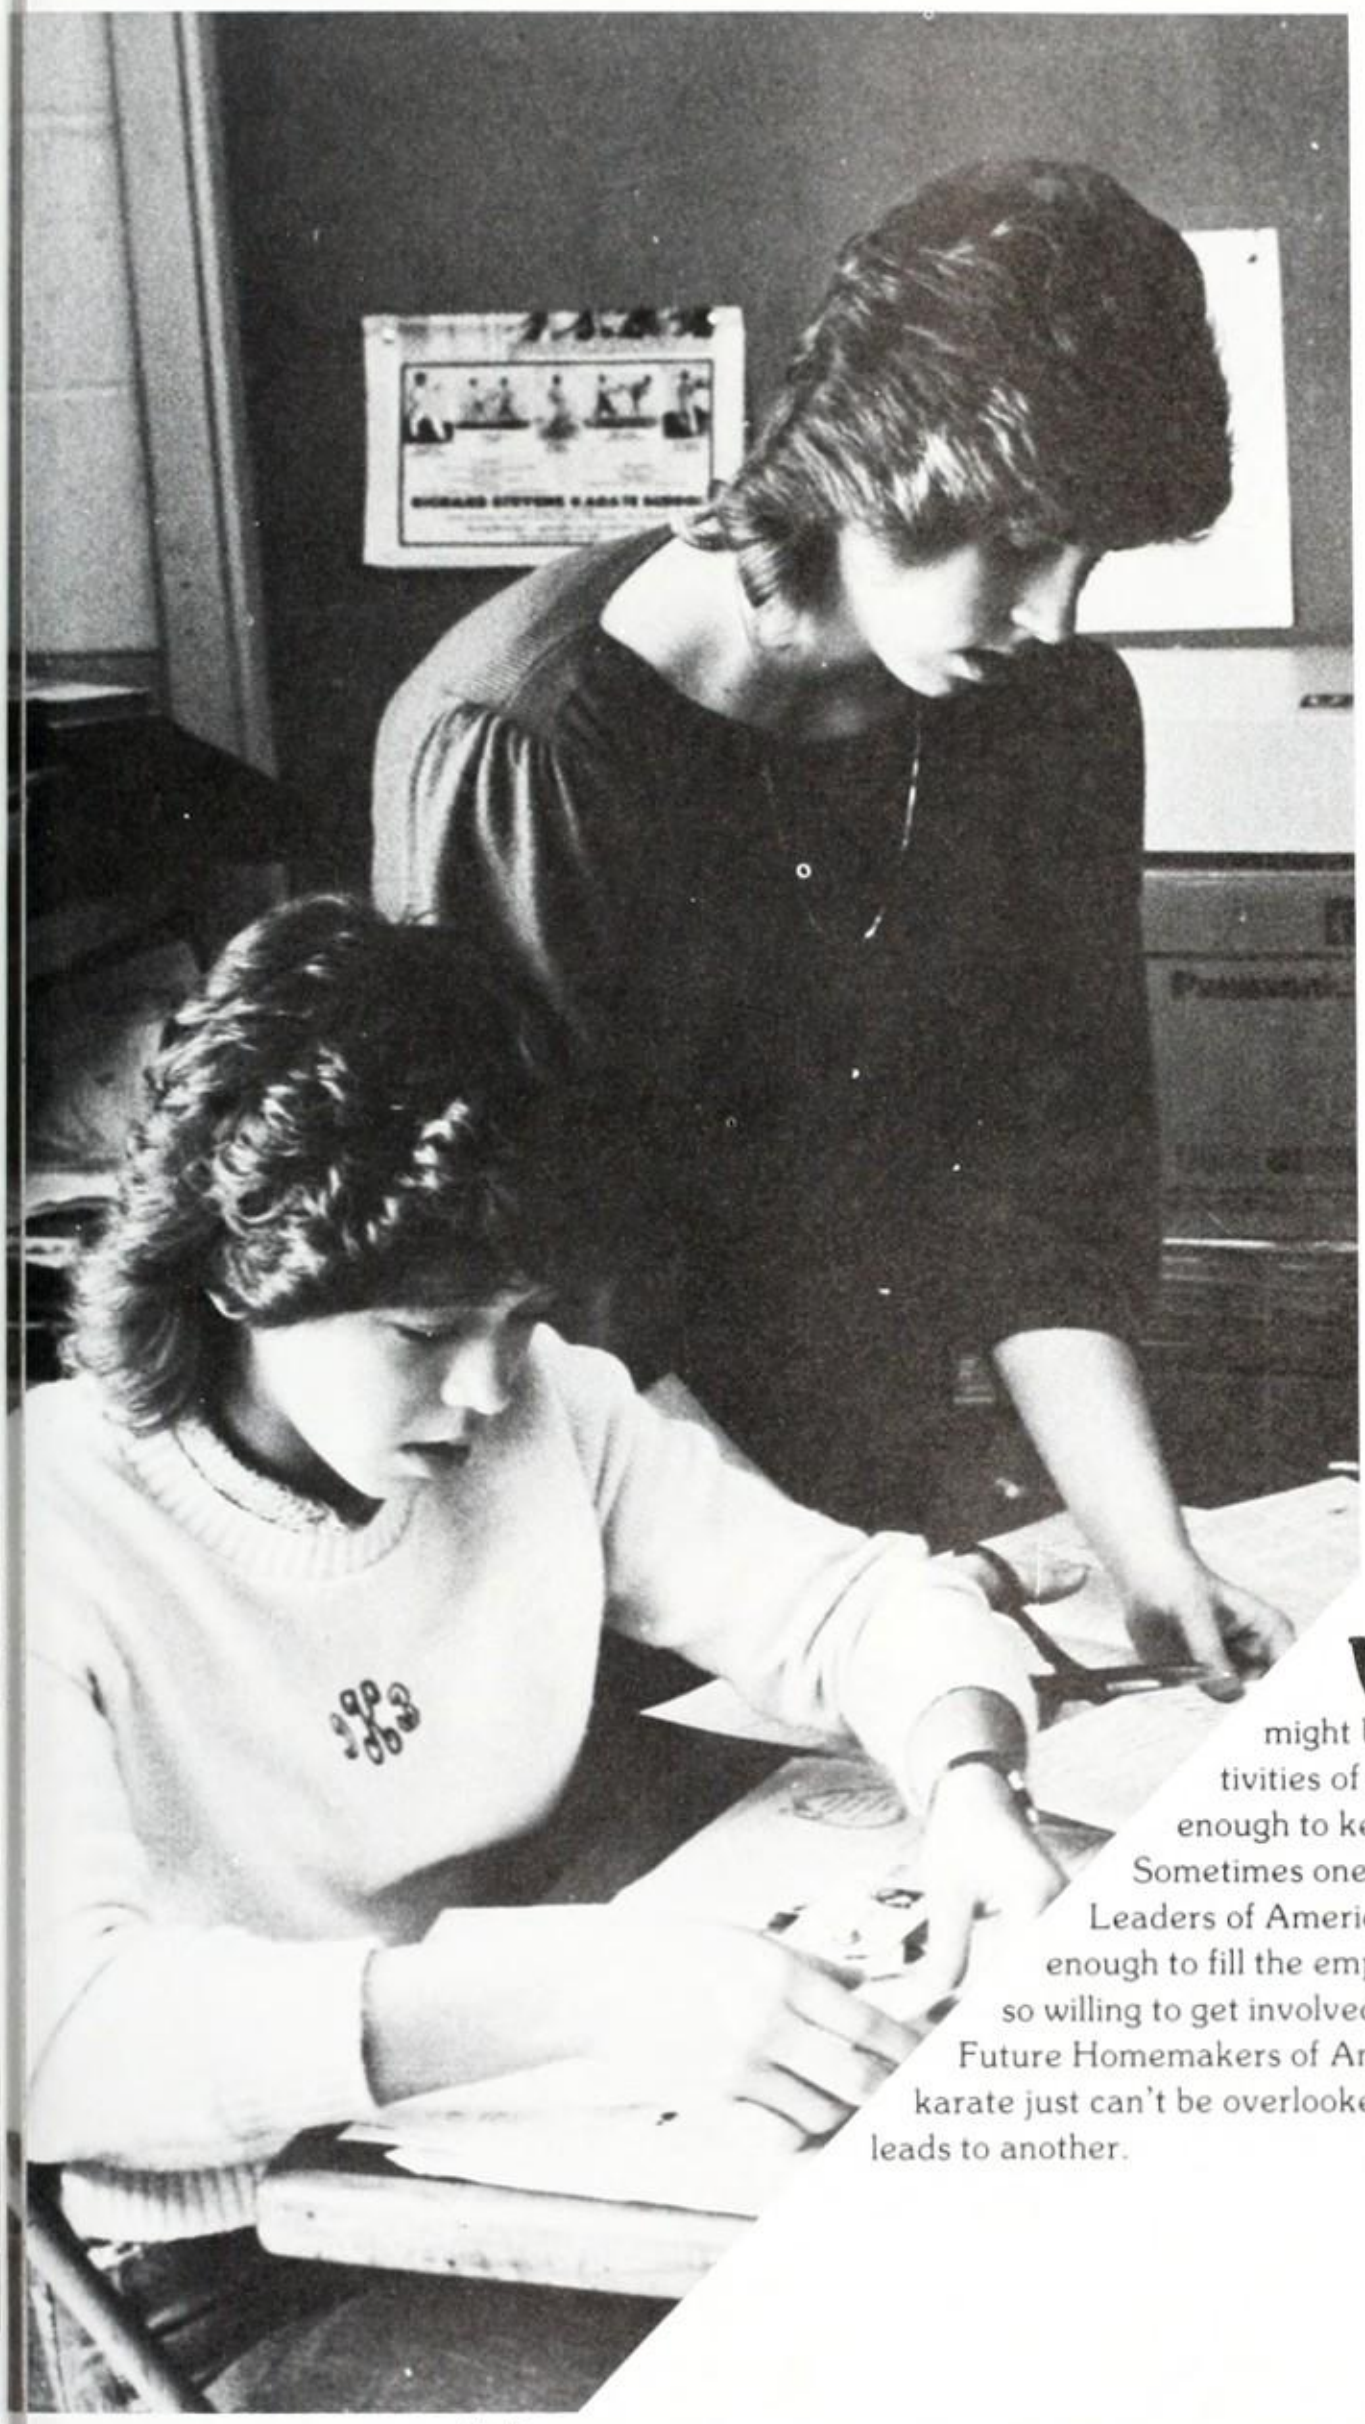
Clubs



Doena Kinman and Jennifer Rodgers, co-editors of the Smoke Signal, practice their editing skills.

Without clubs, student life might be a little dull. The everyday activities of students sometimes just aren't enough to keep active teens happy. Sometimes one club, such as the Future Business Leaders of American or the yearbook staff is enough to fill the empty hours. But some students are so willing to get involved that clubs such as Band, The Future Homemakers of American, or the newly offered karate just can't be overlooked. It's like a fever. One good club leads to another.

— Mike Stamm

The Grantonian yearbook staff started out the 1982-83 year by furthering their knowledge of yearbook skills. The group traveled to the Candlewood Inn in Ft. Wright, Kentucky for the Taylor Publishing Seminar. When sales time came, the staff held a sales promotion assembly. There, Taylor representative Rick Rivard showed slides of GCHS students and several drafted seniors acted out a skit arranged by the editors.

Senior members of the club, adviser Jeff Martin, and guest enjoyed 2 special dinners. Max and Ermas in Lexington was the site of the first and the Rookwood Pottery in Cincinnati of the second.

For the past three years, Nancy Adams, Robin Hughes, and Toni Brewsaugh have edited the Grantonian. This being their last year, they graduate with the knowledge that the 1981-82 received a first place rating.

Student Council in Success

Student Council had very much success sponsoring the school's first dance of the year. With the money they raised, they purchased music equipment from Sunn Musical in Williamstown.
They also took part in the fund raising for Muscular Dystrophy. Although not much money was raised, it still was helpful.
Also, three student council representatives went to Highland Heights for student exchange day.

The Library Club had an active year consisting of many learning experiences. The Club members traveled to Lexington to tour KET Studios and took a shorter trip to Williamstown to the county library.

The group heard several speakers throughout the year and also learned to operate the audio-visual equipment.

Teens for Christ sponsored the Christmas program this year, which featured a play presented by the Sherman Church of Christ which starred Alex Passarello and Christ Spillman. The club also held devotions during club meetings and heard personal testimonies from several special speakers throughout the year.

Toward New Horizons

The Future Homemakers of America is an active club at Grant County. Their motto "Toward New Horizons" expresses the purpose of the organization: learning to live better lives in order that their lives and those of their families may be better.

F.H.A. attended and participated in many activities such as the F.H.A./H.E.R.O. spring and fall regional meetings held at Northern Ky. University and Bellevue High School. They enjoyed a bowling party, a salad bar party, went Christmas caroling and had a weekly exercise class. The chapter participated in fund raisers such as a Christmas tree raffle and a cook book sale. They also participated in many public service activities such as free babysitting at ballgames and a M.D. Skate-a-thon. FHA week was also held Feb. 7-14. The club is advised by Karen Davidson and Pat Boggs. The president is Lisa Turner, who is aided by nine other hard-working officers.

Letterpersons and Pep Club

The 1982-83 Letterpersons had two major accomplishments this year. The first of these events was the annual Thanksgiving assembly which the letterpersons were in charge of. They asked all homerooms for donations of food for needy families throughout the county. After the assembly the members distributed the food in the county.

The other event sponsored by the letterpersons was Homecoming. The club members took care of all decorations, arrangements, and buying crowns and gifts for the royalty. Following the homecoming ballgame the letterpersons sponsored a dance with music by "The good time party machine." Money from this dance was used for letter jackets for club members.

CO-ED-Y

Co-Ed-Y is a club formed to serve the community by its members. Co-Ed-Y started something new this year by having a student of the week. The student is selected by someone being nominated by their teachers. The Co-Ed-Y members painted the teachers' bathroom and they sent Thank-You notes to all the new teachers for making it through the first semester. There will be a banquet for all the parents of the members.

Roddy Rodriguez shows his school spirit by playing volleyball for the Co-Ed-Y Team.

The Grant County Marching Band started practice in the early months of summer. They attended band camp from 9 to 5 for a week at the school. At this camp, they received instruction on playing and marching.

The Marching Band ended a prosperous year in October. Attending contests at Scott County, Tates Creek, Mason County, Moore High School, Washington County, and Anderson County as well as two parades the band represented the school well. Receiving a first place trophy at Scott County as well as a trophy for auxiliary started the season off right. This was immediately followed by a second place at Mason County.

Sonya Thompson, field commander, received two trophies for her performance at Moore High School and Tates Creek. At Tates Creek she received high score of all bands attending.

The percussion section also received a trophy at Anderson County. The percussion section consisted of Greg Kells, Richard Souder, Stephanie Rodgers, Cliff Brown, Bear Burger, Steve Campbell, Brian Tace, and Mark Jump.

Most teachers would agree that teaching is sometimes exasperating, sometimes unrewarding, sometimes almost hopeless. In fact, they might say they sometimes feel like they are fighting an uphill battle. But those same teachers would probably also agree that teaching is sometimes fulfilling, sometimes exciting, sometimes extremely satisfying. And the positive aspects must far outweigh the negative ones because they're still hanging on. We've still got some of the most unusual, comical, intellectual, and academically stimulating individuals teaching here at GCHS.

— Rick Willoby

Various faculty members of GCHS were asked to share their thoughts on teaching and memorable moments in college. Here are some of their responses.

Mr. Doyle considers a blind date he wished he was (blind) and riding to a tournament game in a hearse two of the most memorable moments of his college life.

The first year of teaching was the most memorable for Mrs. Lillard. "I learned so many things that year that I still use in my teaching today."

Mr. Franks feels that the school attitude and sympathy when his father died one of his most memorable moments in teaching. "Mr. Brill loaned one of my students his car so he could attend the funeral." Seeing students grow into useful citizens is fulfilling to Mr. Franks.

Personal Contact: A Key to Grant County School Board Success

Upon coming to Grant County, Dr. Reed found a basically sound school system. Since then he has worked at improving the system, by visiting the individual schools and discovering and filling their needs.

Dr. Otis Reed, Jr. received his Bachelor's and Masters degrees at Murray State University. He then taught 5th grade for 5 years at Butler in Jefferson County. From then he moved to Fairdale, also in Jefferson County, where he was guidance counselor for 5 years. Dr. Reed returned to school at Indiana University for his doctorate and then became guidance counselor at Western Middle School for 3 years. He then served 14 months as principal at Western County High School before taking his position here.

Among Dr. Reed's hobbies are reading, fishing, and walking. He is happy with his job and with the people of Grant County.

During their short time here, Dr. Reed and his family consider Grant County as their home. Jane, Dr. Reed's wife, and Dr. Reed have contributed not only to the welfare of the school system, but also to the population with the birth of their son, Barton Kennedy Reed. Dr. Reed also has a son, Pete, living in Louisville. Mrs. Reed has two children, Michelle, a Senior and Stephen, a Freshman, both at GCHS.

Overall, Dr. Otis Reed, Jr. has a highly favorable opinion of his new home.

The Grant County Board of Education works very hard to improve the educational environments of our students. The board consists of Gordon True, chairperson, Robert Taylor, vice-chairperson, Candy Simpkins, and former members, the late Mildred Blackshear and Sue Davis. The board meets approximately once a month and they discuss and vote on many issues. They discuss a wide variety of subjects from textbook adoption, scheduling and approvement of bills to the employment of teachers and administrators. During the 1982-83 school year, they have voted on the requirements of 20 credits upon high school graduation. They added two new music teachers throughout the county which provides students the opportunity of studying music in grades 1 through 12. They were also observed by an accreditation service from the Kentucky Department of Education. They hope to receive positive results from the study.

The school board along with superintendent Dr. Otis Reed and new members Gary Henry and Howard Osborne initiate many programs to improve our school.

School Administrators Strive to Upgrade Academic Atmosphere

Cooperation is all-important to the Administrators of Grant County High School. Mrs. Beth Conrad, the front office secretary, handles a variety of problems from keeping the financial records to bandaging students. Assistant principal Mr. Gene Wynn takes care of absences, excuses, and early dismissals and is also second in command. Mrs. JoAnn Brill, the guidance counselor, attends to the duties of transferring students, assisting students in their college plans and helping students make satisfactory class schedules. She is also available to discuss student personal problems. Mr. John Brill, principal of Grant County High School, deals with students problems, teachers problems and also "school problems." But, even after a long, hard, problem-dealing day, Mr. Brill can still say, "Students are great people."

Miss Patricia Boggs is one of our newest faculty members. She moved to Dry Ridge from Corbin, Ky. at the beginning of the school year.

A few of her hobbies are attending horse races, crafts, sewing, piano. She also enjoys meeting new people.

She teaches Home Economics I, Child Development, and Food Preparation. She is the sponsor of the freshman cheerleading squad and she advises Pep Club and F.H.A.

One of the newest members of the Grant County faculty is Mrs. Toni Dee Brewer. This is her first full-time teaching job after her student teaching at Tates Creek. She attended the University of Kentucky and Lee's Junior College. Some of her hobbies include playing bridge, gardening, refinishing furniture, and needlepoint.

Mrs. Patti Noel, a Grant County native was born and raised here. After attending college she returned here for her first teaching job. She is one of the Pep Club sponsors, and the cheerleading sponsor for the Girl's Varsity Squad. She teaches several different classes which include Business Communication, Typing I, and Typing II. Some of her hobbies are needlepoint and playing church softball.

A new member of the Grant County teaching staff is John Richardson. He has a major in history and a minor in English and Physical Education.

Mr. Richardson teaches three classes of English, one citizenship class, and one World History class.

His hobbies include growing orchids, refinishing antiques, and gardening.

He enjoys teaching at Grant County High because he finds the character and personality of a rural school more attractive than schools in the large cities.

One of our newest members of Grant County High School is Mrs. Darlene West. She is a 1975 graduate of Grant County, and she resides in this area. Her hobbies are softball and swimming.

Her opinion of the school is that the school seems to have improved in several ways. She thinks that for the students, the school has advanced tremendously. She feels that the students are enjoyable to work with. She also feels that the school spirit is very active at G.C.H.S.

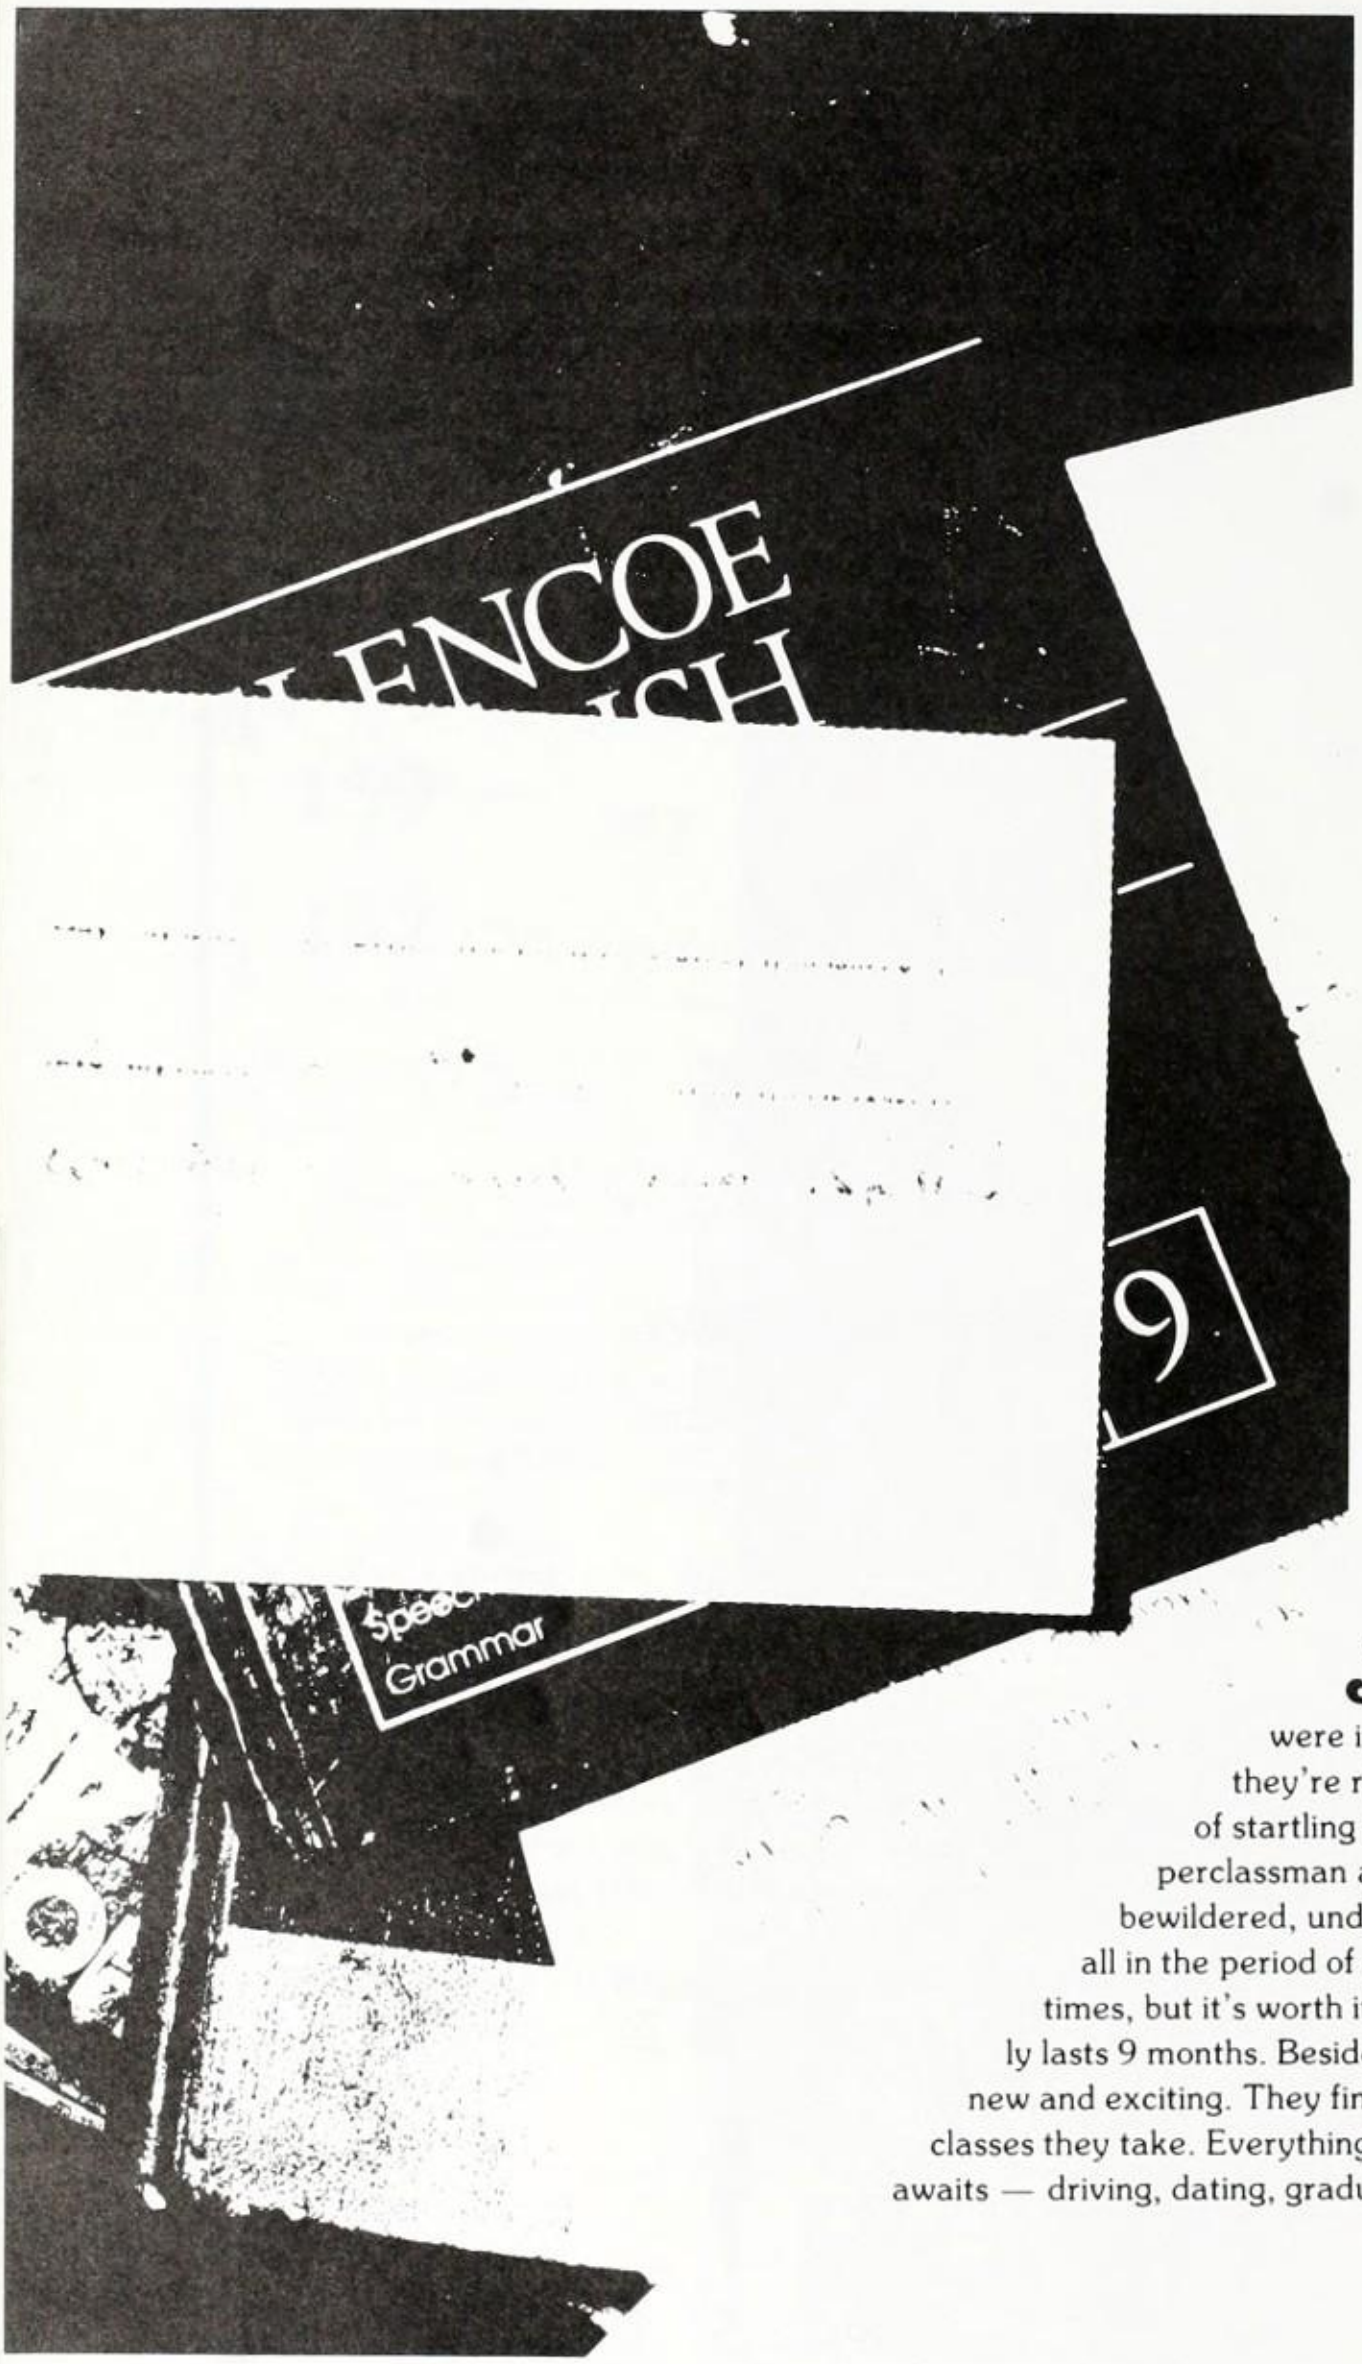
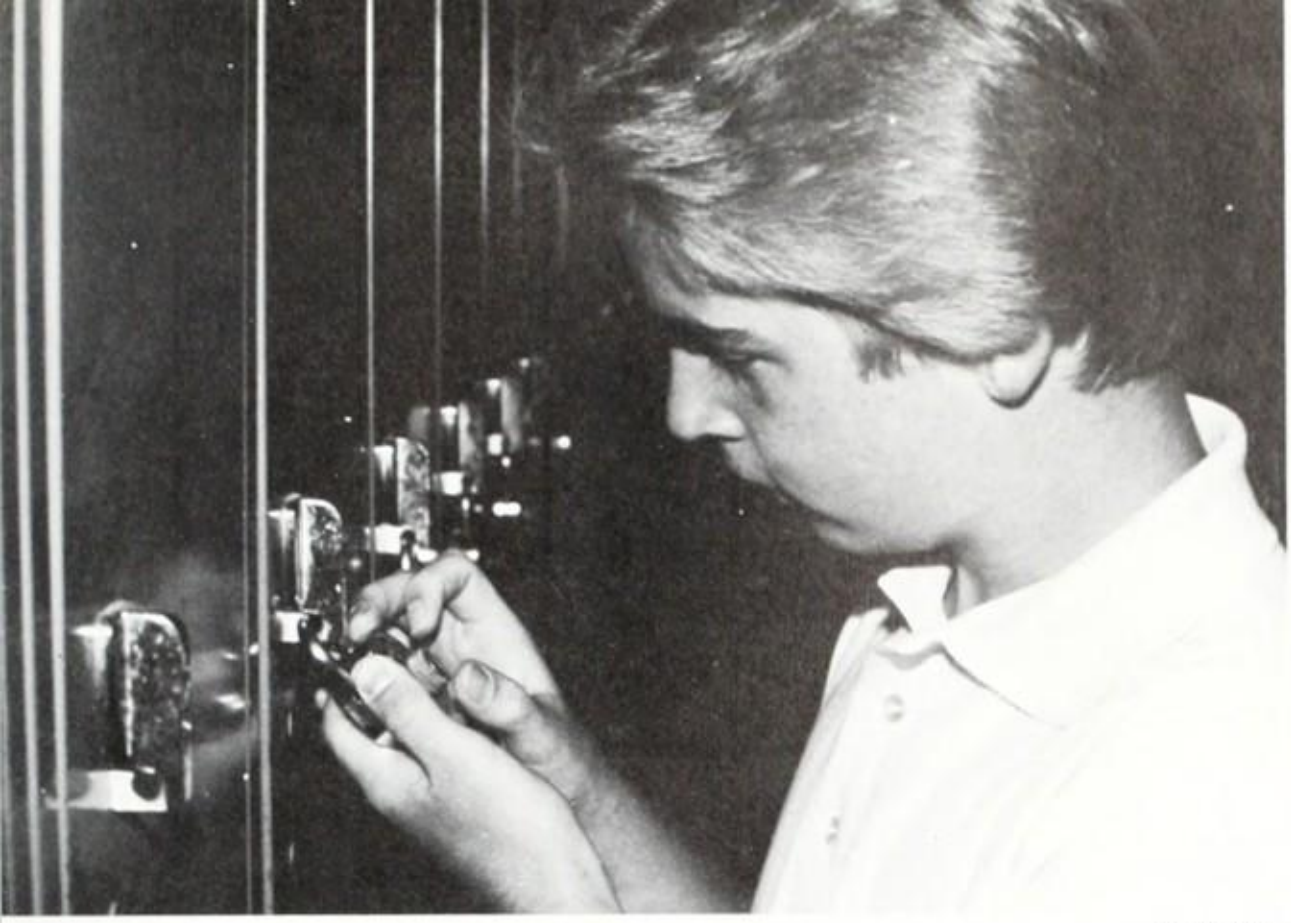
Freshman, Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors. Each class is uniquely important. The freshmen are busy getting a feel for high school life. The sophomores are used to things — they're not confused little freshmen but they're not important upperclassmen — just mixed in the middle of things. Juniors are restless. They're in the middle too. And they want on top. And then the Seniors. They're there. They're excited, scared, happy, and sad all at the same time. And they're there.



Gone are the days of scheduling classes in a mad rush to the teachers of your choice. Computers have updated the entire system.

Just when they thought they were in control and on top of things, they're right back at the bottom. It's kind of startling to go from a sophisticated upperclassman at the middle school to a bewildered, underclassman at the high school, all in the period of about 3 months. It's trying at times, but it's worth it. After all the freshman year only lasts 9 months. Besides, it's not so bad. Everything is new and exciting. They finally have some choice in the classes they take. Everything that the average teen eagerly awaits — driving, dating, graduating — seem a little closer.



Returning to his locker once again, Freshman Rick Marquardt concentrates on the combination to his lock.

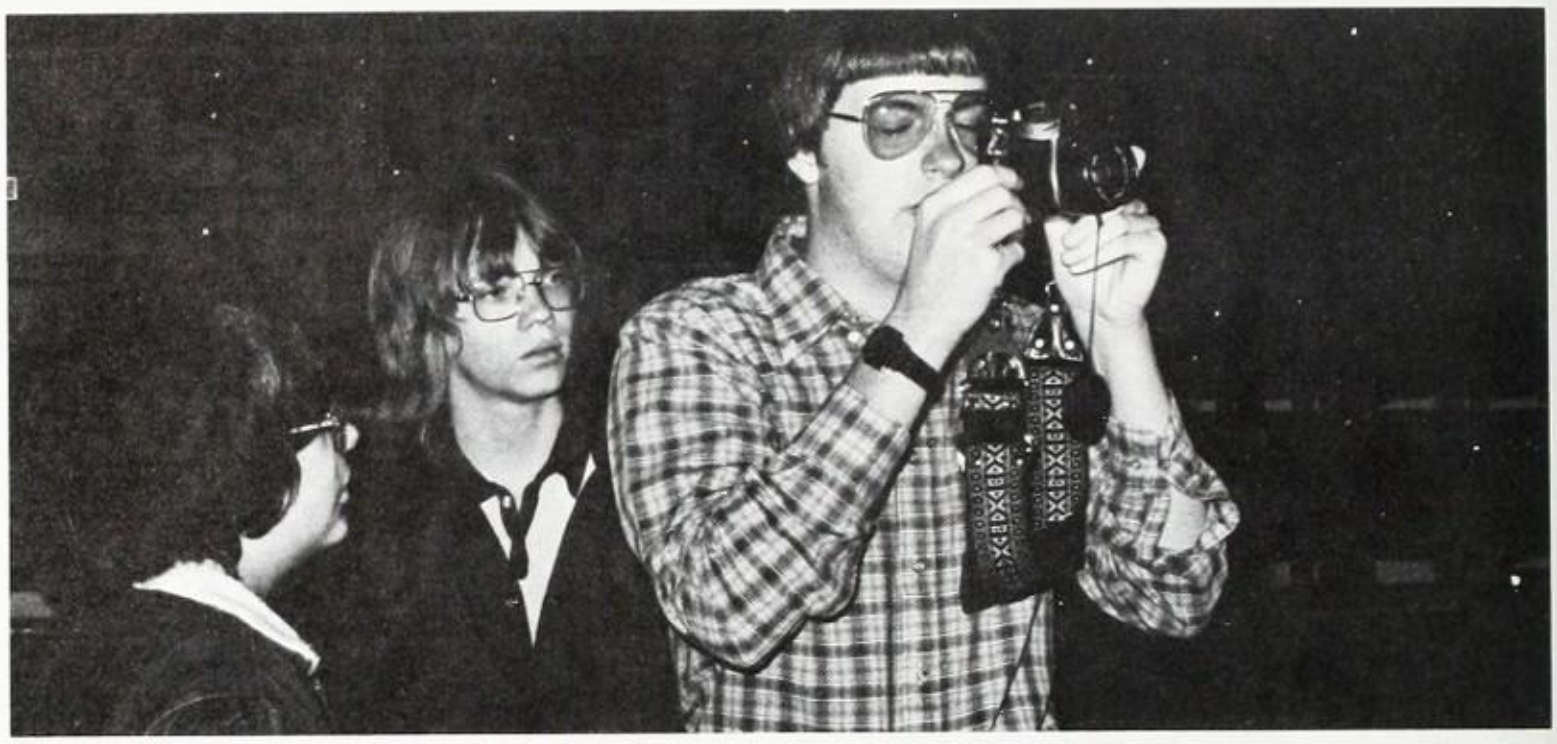
Sophomores

Though the prom seems far away, Sophomores have to plan for their future. The sophomore M&M sale is a part.

The sophomore year can get a little dull. Sophomores are out of the confused stage and into the middle-of-the-road syndrome. They're used to high school life, so the thrill of that first discovery is gone. But there is so much to look forward to, and still so much to discover about GCHS and themselves. High school life has just begun. Candy sales adds some spark to the year while raising the prom funds. Senior rings are ordered. The year is brightened with club activities, dances, and ballgames. Suddenly, graduation doesn't seem so far away.



Jeff Nantz instructs beginning photographer David Arnold on the finer points of taking pictures, while his Sophomore classmate, Doug Baker picks up a few hints himself.

Juniors

Prom moments spark thoughts of the Junior year.

Juniors, also, are in the middle-of-the-road syndrome. They've got it a little better than the sophomores because most of them become drivers at this time and more doors are open to them. But they're restless. Some are eager to graduate while some are eager just to become seniors. There are a lot of activities to liven up the year. The Junior prom, most juniors would probably agree, is definitely a highlight. Another important though, perhaps not as glamorous factor is the dreaded ACT tests. Juniors are cheered with the arrival of their class rings. And at the end of the junior year senior pictures are taken. The reality of growing up is sinking in.

Seniors

Being a "Senior" is more than a status symbol — it is a goal that has been reached, a time to experience life, and a year that will be remembered. Often, class members will become closer during their last year of high school, and the class of 1983 is no exception. In the years to come, we may no longer see the faces of the friends we have grown, changed, and learned with for so long, but we will see the memories in our minds for a lifetime.

Many times vocational school students do not appear in the Grantonian very often — so this year these two pages have been used to spotlight these deserving students as they have spent over half of this year at Boone County Vocational School and traveling to and from. Boone County Vocational School provides students with training in many areas from auto body and diesel mechanics to welding and sheet metal. They also offer a Health Careers program along with child development.

The 1983 Prom was held on Saturday, April 30th at the Holidome in Ft. Mitchell, Kentucky. At 8:00, a delicious dinner of roast, ham, buttered rolls, potatoes, green beans, salad, and pecan pie was served.

Dancing, mingling and signing of Prom Memory Books followed the dinner while Disc Jockey, Larry Cochran played many popular favorites of everyone there.

Junior Class President, Jennifer Payne, announced and crowned the Prom King and Queen, David Parks and Joyce Napier; and the Prince and Princess, Dan O'Nan and Lisa Wainscott. The King and Prince received key chains and the Queen and Princess received roses and a silver platter. Then, the Royal Couples shared a slow dance to the Prom Theme, "You and I", by Crystal Gale and Eddie Rabbitt.

Class Night . . .

Above — Diane Draper and Kim Maxwell's rendition of "Out Here on My Own" held true meaning for the graduating seniors.

One of 8 valedictorians, Robin Hughes took part in the class night production by introducing many of the evening's speakers and singers.

Mitchell Dunn and Michelle Dickerson recount many of the outstanding happenings of the senior year of the class of 1983.

Up Where We Belong

The class of 1983 chose "Horizons" as their class theme. The class song was "Up Where We Belong" and the motto was "Living for Today, Searching for Tomorrow." Sunset colors decorated the gym and Sweetheart roses adorned class members. Performers for the evening were Nancy Acuff and Asa Sandstrom, and Lori Beighle who sang "This One's for You" Tammie McKinney who sang "Run for the Roses" and Nancy Adams who sang "Remember Me" and a duet by Diane Draper and Kim Maxwell on "Out Here on My Own." The class history and prophecy were read and scholarships and special awards were given, The class key was presented by Senior President Lori Woodyard to Junior president Jenny Payne. Closing remarks were made by Tina Simpson and Richard Souder and the class night festivities were ended with the singing of the class song.

Top — Impatience mounted for Dale Beach and other soon-to-be graduates as rain and a traffic jam caused the ceremonies to be delayed.

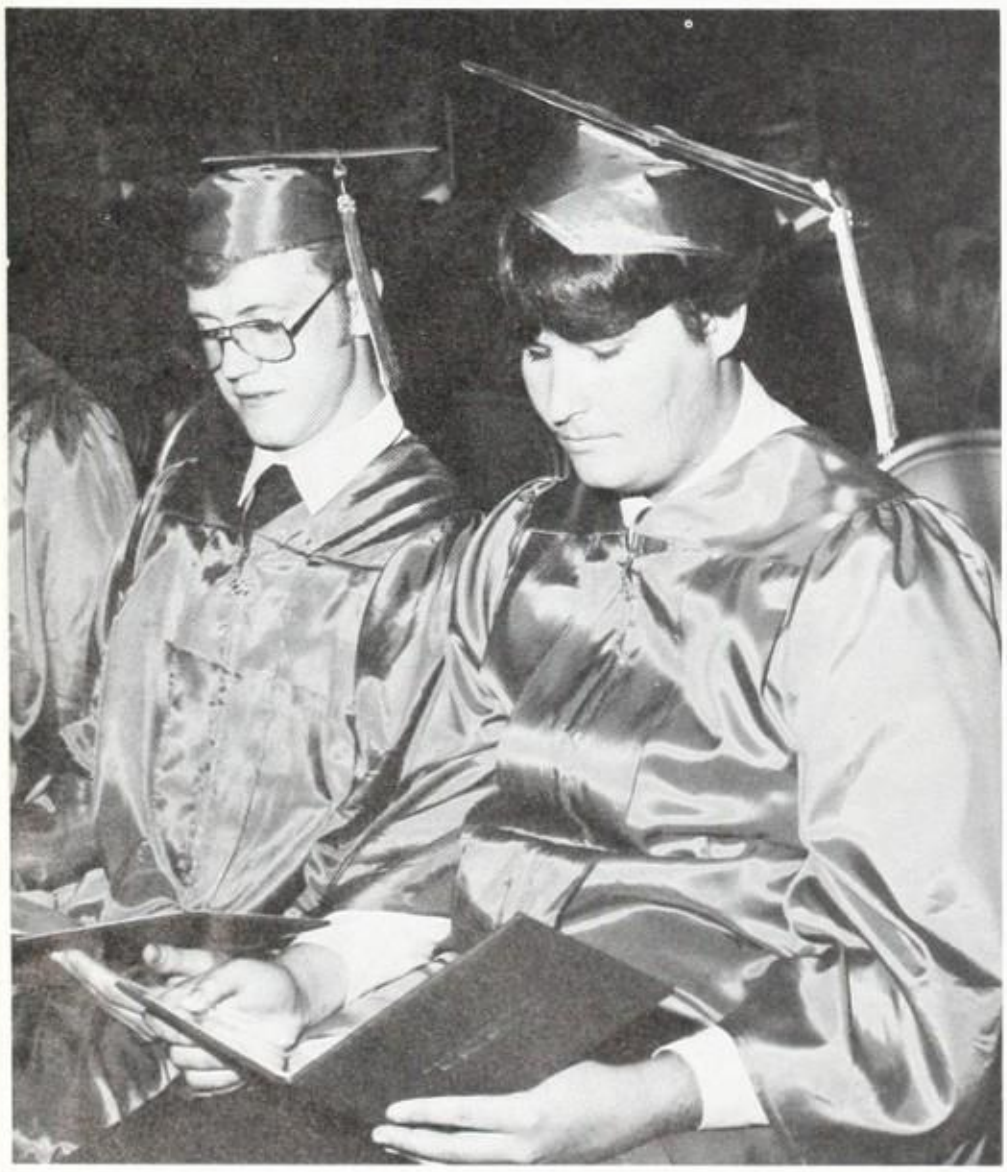
Graduation: A Step Towards the Future . . .



The class of 1983 marched into a full house on Sunday evening, May 15, and was presented by Mr. John Brill. After a warm welcome, a prayer was led by the father of a class member, Rev. Hall. The speaker, Mark Twain traveled quite a distance to be with the group and his address was truly appreciated. Tension was mounting as the long-awaited diplomas were issued. Members of the National Honor Society wore the gold cords on their blue or gold gowns. After superintendent Dr. Otis Reed and board chairman Gordon True handed out the treasured document, class members gathered in Mrs. Willoughby's room to claim report cards, and other items.

Advertising

Without the support of local businesses this preservation of memories known as a yearbook could not have been produced. We would like to thank the members of our staff who explained our situation, and collected funds from the local business men and women and especially the local business men and women who understood the situation and offered their help. We hope, in turn, that the ads we have produced for them do them justice.

Closing

Board Chairman Gordon True presents Steve Barnes with the long-awaited diploma.

— Osborne Studios

The closing section contains some of the most precious memories of high school life. The big events of the junior and senior years make up most of it, because they can never go back and recapture or redo. The freshman, sophomores, perhaps can learn something from the way the upperclassmen handled the happenings. Closing is probably not the best name for this section. It sounds too final, too ending-ish. If not for the confusion, we would call it "Beginnings."

Top Left — Another day of hard work is over and Bud Clark along with many other GCHS students rushes to the buses.
Top Right — When spring finally makes an appearance, Sophomore Becky O'Nan doesn't know which end is up.
Opposite Page — Top The pressure is on but golf team member Doug Parks is laid back. Center — Third year art students Danny Martin, David Damron, and Tony Wallace prepare the kindling for the pit-fire pottery.
Bottom Right — By 3:05, students are eager to escape the confines of the school building and enjoy a breath of fresh air.

Spring Was . . .
A Breath of Fresh Air

Rick Willoby

Jeff Nantz

Spring, like a lot of things this year at GCHS, was a little late. Actually it never really got here. A few days of warm weather sprinkled with some snow were all we had to work with. But on those warm days, students took full advantage. Jackets were discarded short sleeves donned and a whole new atmosphere prevailed. Sports like golf and baseball could go on as planned, but even these much looked-forward to events couldn't cure spring fever. The fever brought out the light-hearted side in all of us, sometimes much to the dismay of bell-awaiting faculty members. By the end of the day students and teachers alike were ready to take advantage of the many pleasures the outdoors had to offer.

Top Left — This summer a select group of juniors from all over Kentucky will be attending the Governor's honors program at Centre College. Chris Rogers was chosen from Grant County High to participate in this program.

Top Right — The hard work of all of the cast and crew members of "The Hound of the Baskervilles" paid off as this play now holds the highest attendance of a performance at Grant County High.

Opposite Page, Top — Four years of hard work on the basketball court proved to be successful as September Colbert was chosen for a full-basketball scholarship to Morehead State University.

Hard Work Pays Off

The efforts of many students seem to go unnoticed at times. The hard work they put forth goes unthanked and unappreciated. But the people on these pages were thanked or acknowledged in some form, either a scholarship or an honor, for the time and effort they spent on a particular project. No doubt there are many others whose hard work we cannot take the time to list, but we hope in some way they are rewarded.

— Rick Willoby

Bottom Left — Each week this year one student was chosen by teachers as the student of the week. The student may have been one that made high grades or one that made more of an effort than usual. Terry Rayburn, Julie Ruark, Joyce Napier, Laura Bagby, Sheila Collins and Robert Kinman are some of the students of the week.

Special Events Highlight End of 1982-83 School Year

After what seemed to be a long, dry spell, school events picked up at a dizzying pace. First the school play "The Hound of the Baskervilles" entertained two sell-out crowds. Director J. David Thompson called the play "the most challenging project I have ever done."

As soon as the play wound up, plans had to be made for the upcoming prom. Dresses bought, tuxedos rented, flowers ordered, hair appointments made, and finally the most important items — the 16 rolls of film. "You and I" the theme of the 1982-83 prom was as big a success as the evening itself.

Class night came along. More dresses, flowers, hair appointments, and film. This time a feeling of sadness mixed with joy was in the heart of every soon-to-be graduate.

Which brings us to graduation. Caps and gowns and "Pomp and Circumstance" and saying goodbye to a way of life.

But not for the under-graduates. As soon as the 1983 grads were on their way, the 1984 class was being ushered in. The taking of the senior pictures finalized it.

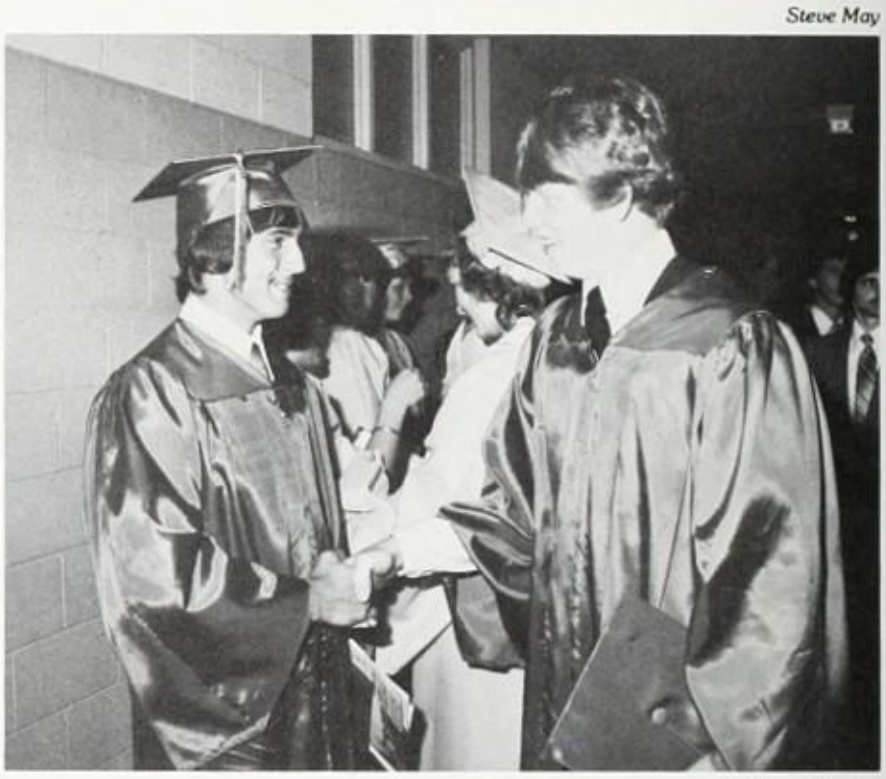
All Good Things Must Come to An End



— Osborne Studios

All good things must come to an end. It's funny how high school didn't seem to be a good thing until it's coming to an end. Not only for the seniors. The underclassmen must say goodbye to classmates who move, to teachers who leave and to all the things that made their freshman, sophomore, or junior year unique.

It's been an uphill climb, but at the end of the year it doesn't seem to have been too steep for most of us. Only the good things stick in our minds. Like the time so and so threw a smoke bomb, or the great times in study hall. There are so many things to remember that we fill up 4 yearbooks autograph pages with memories.

It's not only a time for endings, tho. It's a time for new beginnings, endless possibilities and choices, and exciting new adventures. People always say that high school is the best time of your life. It is a great time, but there is life after high school. At least we can take the fondest memories with us of the crazy times at GCHS. But whatever happened to the pigs at class night?

Opposite Page, Top Left — The drama department presented a number of skits in a short program. In this one, Lisa Martin and Mollie Brewsaugh act out a play based on nursery rhymes.
Top Right — All good things must come to an end, even lunch. Here, Gaylon Lovelace and a friend enjoy one.
Bottom — Graduation is definitely a good thing ending. Jerry Caldwell and Darren Hoffman say goodbye to each other and to high school.
This Page, Top — An autographed hall pass will always symbolize high school life to the GCHS students who were here when they came about.
Bottom Left — As the end of school draws near, Chuck MacAdams makes the most of a few spare moments in class.

Dear Readers,

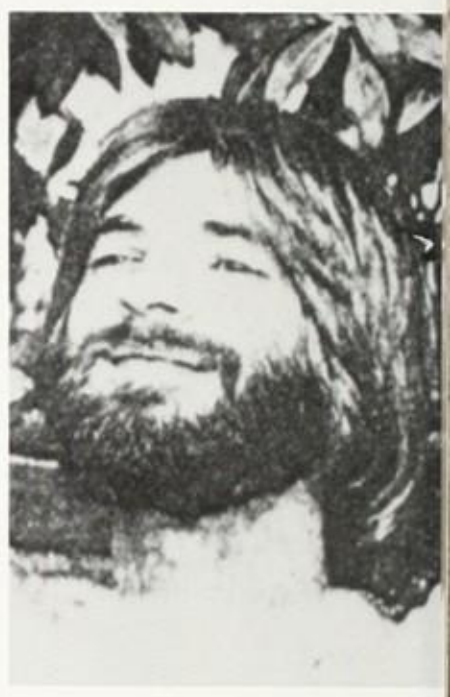
This is the last time that we'll be writing the editor's page and the last time we'll be coming back in June to finish the yearbook. We're glad to be rid of it in a way, but we'll miss it too.

This year, as in years past, we've put a lot of ourselves into this book and so have many others. We would like to thank Melissa Milner and Sherry Beach for all the typing they did, Samantha Kinman for all her work in the sports section, Rick Willoby for his photographic contributions, and rookies — Nancy Willoughby, Jenni Toole, Laurel Workman, Lanette Woodyard, and Robby Adams for all the effort they put forth. And, also, thanks to Tersa Wright, Lanette Woodyard, Doug Baker, Scott Evans, and Brian Curd for buying cookbooks.

We also want to thank the teachers for excusing staff members to work on the book, the coaches for all the information they supplied for the sports section. Osborne Studios for all their help, Rick and Harry Rivard for their guidance and for making J. Martin spend more money on the cover.

We want to give a special thanks and an honorary membership to the Grantonian Staff to Gail Hubbard. She drew endless cartoons for the Student Life and Academic sections until we finally made up our minds, and she pulled us from many tight spots when deadline time rolled around.

We hate to run our thank yous into the ground, but we figure we'd better do it now while we have the chance. So, our sincerest thanks go to SUPERFAN, Richie Rich, Rolling Stone, Todd Hall, Dick and Jane, the Evil Quad-Pak, Tom Jones, and the Everly Brothers, Loggins for staying on the wall, dead babies, Mr. Can, Commonwealth Hall, tall babies, gomaz wandering aimlessly in the desert, Poncho and Crisco, Seamen, Beackie and Asinine, Jeff Spicolli, the Smurfs, the 5th period study hall officers, Wonder Woman, SID for being elected Geek of the Week, the guy in the glasses, EKU for cheatin us out of our plague, the Gandhi twins (just joking Jimmy Jam), the cast of the school play, Steven Duggan, the Samantha folder, the Harley Hog, the Mad Crapper, Chip Ohoy, all of our friends and everyone who made our high school years so special tu us.



We weren't going to thank J. Martin, he was quite a pig for a big part of the year. But due to a change in attitude on his part we have reconsidered. So, thanks go to J. for a pizza (and he helped a little on the book, too) and J., when life gets rough, we want you to know we'll always remember those inspiring words — "GEE WHIZ."

Well, it's time to come to a close, boys and girls. It's been real. And it's been fun. But you get the picture!

Sincerely,
Nancy K. Adams
